Lack of Limits,

Folkrock and Worldmusic from Oldenburg, near Bremen, in northern Germany, their members today: Eve Hase, Christian Jakober, Marc Prietzel, Uwe Bruns and guests.

They play several instruments: fiddle, saxophones, accordeon, whistles, didgeridoo, electric and acoustic guitars, bass, drums and sing with three voices.

Lack of Limits use celtic music as leitmotif and visit all the musical styles they like and have fun with, that's how their typical „Lack-of-Limits-sound“ is created.

Folk, rock, reggae, ska – everything is wildly mixed, makes people dance, is unpredictable and never boring.

The band has been touring for eleven years now and has played more than 700 national and international shows. As a result they have produced seven CDs. Their latest CD-Release-Party was at the same time the band's 10th anniversary and a good reason for the production of a DVD named live tree.

They still love playing live-shows – watch one and you will feel the fun and love for the music which touches young and old.
